

Wizard2011

Image File
InformationClose You can upload image files here. Just choose them in the file uploader at the bottom of the screen. These image files are not part of the tool description itself but will be stored in an image folder on the server and inserted into the codegen directories if you use codegen. An image file has the sole purpose of being referenced by the html-pages generated for this tool description.
File name: *	<input type="text"/>
File Uploaded:	Choose
Files + No image files yet.
ReturnSave and returnSave	