You have to provide an actual filename (e.g. mytool_1.1.tar.gz), an internal filename (e.g. "MyTool tar Archive") and a short description of the file to create a valid file description. It is also highly recommended to upload the file itself at this stage. Otherwise the codegen data of your tool description cannot be deployed on a BiBiServ instance without inserting the respective file manually. If your file is a compiled binary you also should provide information about the platform this binary was compiled for (e.g. Linux). | |
